

Resort Fact Sheet

OVERVIEW

Overlooking a serene bay of western Corfu (Ermones Beach), 15 minutes from Corfu airport and Corfu town and in very close proximity to Corfu's Golf & Country Club, the island's newest renovated legendary resort and spa, comprises a series of intimate terraced buildings with superior and deluxe rooms and suites, several with private pools. The resort spreads along 110 acres of cypress trees, eucalyptus trees and pine woods and cascades along breathtaking cliffs, offering spectacular views and dipping dramatically into the sparkling blue-turquoise Ionian Sea. The resort's location avails some of the best diving in Corfu, while it's G-Spa offers a journey into serenity.

GETTING TO CORFU ISLAND

In the holiday season (May to October) Corfu has an excellent air connection with most European cities. There are dozens of charter flights daily, as well as scheduled flights (London, Berlin, Budapest, Warsaw etc). Furthermore, 4 to 6 flights daily connect the island with Athens and throughout the week there are a few flights connecting the island with Thessalonica. Ferry boat and passenger ship service connects Corfu to the Greek mainland on the east (Igoumenitsa and Patras) and to Italy (Venice, Bari, Brindisi, Ancona) on the west.

GENERAL INFORMATION ON CORFU

The lush green island of Corfu, or Kerkyra, where Laurence Durrell wrote some of his best novels, has rich historical links with Venice and Great Britain and is the birth place of renown Greek poets, politicians and musicians. It is known for its colourful festivals and festivities, many held around picturesque and authentic villages lying on the top or in the middle of the many mountains of the island and on the fine coastline which features some of the prettiest beaches in Greece; sandy on the west and the north, pebbly on the east. Its charming capital, Corfu town, is known for its Venetian architecture (now a Unesco site).
